Customer Experiences

Tapped the Film

"Planet Media has created an AMAZING website to help us raise awareness and educate Americans about World Water Week. We are so happy with the way it turned out. The website is elegant, hip and stunning".

Atlas Films - Santa Monica, California*

Contagious Media, LLC

"Planet Media's team of professionals helped us create a custom designed website for our Charter School client. They were easy to work with and assisted us in developing a sophisticated CMS backend to the website that was exactly what our client needed - with no compromises. We especially appreciated their attention to the detail of this project, their timeliness, and full competence in programming".

Sandra Murray - President Contagious Media, LLC - Denver, Colorado

Mt. Evans Pictures

"Talk about a tough assignment. I gave Planet Media almost zero input when it came to creating a website for Mt. Evans Pictures. I had no idea about look, feel, style, design, color scheme, or even font. My only prerequisite: build a site where I can showcase my TV reels and videos and introduce my company's services to potential clients. Planet Media asked all sorts of important questions and lo and behold created a site that blew past all expectations. I love the fun and intuitive style of www.mtevanspictures.com, and all the cool details and extra features that Planet Media dreamed up. They captured the excitement and intrigue of the TV and film biz. Better still, they did it in a lean "green" way, efficiently and effectively".
